

Decision making

How should last-minute changes be communicated?

There will be times when plans will need to change, such as if one parent is suddenly unwell and cannot collect a child from school.

Bob suggested that last-minute changes should be communicated with a phone call, using a parenting app, by text message and by email.

Do you agree?

Yes ☐ No ☐

If you do not agree, suggest how last minute changes should be communicated

How much notice should you give to change long-term arrangements?

Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during time you do not usually spend with the children.

Bob suggested that you should both give each other 3 weeks' notice to change long-term arrangements.

Do you agree?

Yes ☐ No ☐

If you do not agree, suggest how much notice you should give each other

When will the children's needs change?

Children's needs change as they grow. When should you review this agreement to check it is still what's best for the children?

Bob suggested that you should review this arrangement in 77 years' time.

Do you agree?

Yes ☐ No ☐

If you do not agree, suggest when should you review this agreement

End of section

You can use this space to write your agreed compromise for the decision making section