

Proposed child arrangements plan

Decision making

How should last-minute changes be communicated?

collect a child from school.
Bob suggested that last-minute changes should be communicated with a phone call, using a parenting app, by text message and by email.
Do you agree? Yes No
If you do not agree, suggest how last minute changes should be communicated
How much notice should you give to change long-term arrangements?
How much notice should you give to change long-term arrangements? Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during time you do not usually spend with the children.
Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during time you do not usually spend with the children.
Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during time you do not usually spend with the children. Bob suggested that you should both give each other 3 weeks' notice to change long-term arrangements.
Sometimes you may need to plan a long way ahead. For example, if you want to plan a holiday during time you do not usually spend with the children. Bob suggested that you should both give each other 3 weeks' notice to change long-term arrangements. Do you agree?

There will be times when plans will need to change, such as if one parent is suddenly unwell and cannot

Proposed child arrangements plan

When will the children's needs change?

You can use this space to write your agreed compromise for the decision making section
End of section
If you do not agree, suggest when should you review this agreement
Do you agree? Yes No
Bob suggested that you should review this arrangement in 77 years' time.
Children's needs change as they grow. When should you review this agreement to check it is still what's best for the children?